

We invite you to #ColorOurCollections!

Share your finished masterpiece with the hashtag #ColorTheH and #ColorOurCollections, or submit in the Maple Orientation Gallery for a chance to be featured on our feed.

This illustration is featured in Thomas More's Utopia (1518), from The Huntington's library collections. As part of The Huntington's 2019 /five initiative with partner Clockshop, five different artists will explore our collections and create new work, using the idea of utopia as a thematic point of departure. The project will culminate in an exhibition opening November 2019.
