

Slowing Down: The Artist's Pace

For Grades 6-8

In this resource, we will consider the ideas of Huntington artist-in-residence Enrique Martínez Celaya, respond to different artworks, and plan our own artwork.

Supplies: Handouts (provided), pen or pencil, art supplies

What to do:

1. Choose one of the following artworks from The Huntington Art Museum catalog:
 - a. Pink Lightning, Black Mountain
 - b. Isleta Pottery Maker, Pueblo of Isleta, New Mexico
 - c. Breakfast in Bed
 - d. New York Skyscrapers
2. Complete Handout A.

Show and Share:

1. Before creating your art, complete Handout B to help you envision what you want to create.
2. Using Handout B as a reference, create your artwork. Remember, you can change your mind as you go!
3. Once you have completed your artwork, write your artist's reflection using Handout C.

Extend your Learning:

1. See how an artwork can change over time. Compare [Top Man \[study\]](#) with the completed Top Man painting. How are they different? What did the artist add between the study and the painting?
2. Create a second artwork using the same planning sheet (Handout B). Be sure not to look at your first artwork while creating your second! When you are done, compare your two artworks. How are they different? How are they similar?
3. Walk around your home and find a good place to hang your artwork. Where did you pick? Why do you think this is a good place for this artwork?
4. Read this blog post to learn more about Martínez Celaya's artistic process and his artwork at The Huntington.
5. Listen to Martínez Celaya talk about Art and Mindfulness and write or draw a response to his ideas.

Handout A: Looking at Art

“There is no work of art without the viewer.”
-Martínez Celaya, Art and Mindfulness (2015)

What do you think Martínez Celaya means by this quote? Do you agree or disagree? Why?

Directions: Look at one of the four works of art from The Huntington Art Museum catalog for one minute. Draw the art with details below.

Handout B: Artwork Planning Sheet

I want to make an artwork of...

Directions: Complete three sketches of what this artwork could look like. Each of these sketches should look different.

Sketch 1:	Sketch 2:	Sketch 3:

Directions: Look at the sketches you made and create a plan for your artwork.

First: _____

Then: _____

Last: _____

Remember, you can always change your mind as you work on your art!

Handout C: Artist's Reflection

"Expect change. Embrace accidents and mistakes."
-Martínez Celaya, Art and Mindfulness (2015)

What do you think Martínez Celaya means by this quote?

Directions: Look at your sketches and plan in your Artwork Planning Sheet (Handout A). Think about what happened when you made your artwork.

How did your plans change as you worked?

How do you feel about those changes?
